Law, research, and policy for organizing

TRANSACTIONAL SUPERVISING ATTORNEY CAPACITY BUILDING PRACTICE AREA

Position Summary:

TakeRoot Justice's Capacity Building Practice provides legal advice and assistance to: (i) groups establishing worker-owned cooperative businesses and established worker-owned cooperative businesses in connection with incorporation, governance and other matters; and (ii) grassroots organizations, including nonprofits and unincorporated associations, in connection with incorporation, tax exemption and compliance with corporate, employment, tax and other laws. We provide creative technical assistance and legal solutions as we work toward the equitable control of resources through cooperative and other non-exploitative institutions, with a particular focus on Indigenous, Black and Brown communities that have been historically exploited and marginalized.

TakeRoot seeks applicants for the position of Supervising Attorney in our Capacity Building practice, which currently includes one staff attorney. The Supervising Attorney will collaborate and provide mentorship as appropriate to the staff attorney, as well as interns and fellows.

The position offers a unique opportunity to practice in several innovative areas of the law while building relationships with local community organizers, leaders and service providers. The Supervising Attorney reports to the Executive Director of TakeRoot.

Practice Area Responsibilities:

- Represent start-up worker cooperatives on entity choice, assist in entity formation and draft governance documents;
- Represent existing worker cooperatives on contract, employment, intellectual property and other matters;
- Represent community-based organizations in entity formation, governance, tax exemption applications and compliance matters;
- Conduct workshops and trainings for community-based organizations and their members; and
- Advocate to legislative bodies and agencies in partnership with community-based organizations and their members regarding issues related to worker cooperatives, other small businesses and nonprofits at the city and state level.

Supervisory and Management Responsibilities:

- Train, supervise and mentor attorneys and interns to ensure professional development and competency in work being performed;
- Engage in regular meetings with staff and volunteers to monitor workload, review their projects, and provide guidance as needed;
- Collaborate with the Director and staff of the practice area to develop and implement strategic planning for the practice area;

- Comply with all grant reporting requirements and supporting development department to ensure ongoing funding for the work; and
- Participate in management of TakeRoot together with other managers and the Director.

TakeRoot Responsibilities:

As an organization committed to democratic participation and decision-making, all staff:

- Support the growth of TakeRoot on other substantive and administrative projects, including participating in at least one internal governance circle;
- Cultivate relationships with current and potential funders; and
- Comply with all grant-reporting requirements.

Qualifications/Skills:

Required:

- At least five (5) to seven (7) years of relevant experience;
- Admission to the New York State Bar;
- Demonstrated commitment to grassroots efforts for economic, racial and social justice;
- Strong drafting and analytical skills;
- Excellent organizational skills;
- Excellent interpersonal/communication skills;
- Demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations; and
- Ability to work collaboratively with staff in shaping and running the practice.

Strongly Preferred:

- Experience supervising attorneys and/or non-attorneys;
- Fluency in English and at least one (1) more language, preferably Spanish; and
- Experience working with social justice and/or community organizing groups.

Timeline and Compensation/Benefits:

The anticipated start date for this position is September 2022, with the possibility of an earlier start date.

The annual base salary range for this position is between $76,000 and $85,000 consistent with the salary scale in our collective bargaining agreement. TakeRoot Justice also offers an excellent benefits package, with generous vacation, personal and sick time, along with industry leading medical and dental coverage. A competitive salary with an excellent benefits package is available, with generous vacation, personal and sick time, along with industry leading medical and dental coverage.

This is a full-time, hybrid position with occasional in-person work required in our New York City office location as well as other sites such as community-based sites throughout the city. TakeRoot Justice is a hybrid remote workplace that allows employee flexibility in determining whether to work remotely or in the office, for routine, independent work that doesn't require office resources.
